Invitation

The European Federation of Cytology Societies (EFCS) is announcing the third webinar which is organized by the common efforts of two Cytology Societies, this time by the British Association for Cytopathology and Finnish Society for Clinical Cytology. The program has been planned by Ashish Chandra from London and by Ivana Kholová from Tampere, who both chair the session.

The main topic of the event is thyroid and salivary gland cytopathology. The first part will consist of two lectures given by David Poller and Ivana Kholová.

In the second part of the afternoon four younger colleagues - two from UK and two from Finland - will each give a case presentation from the field of thyroid and salivary gland cytopathology.
