and Romanian Society of Clinical Cytology

March 14, 2024

The European Federation of Cytology Societies (EFCS) is announcing the fourth webinar which is organized by the common efforts of two Cytology Societies, this time by the Italian and the Romanian Society of Cytology. The program has been planned by Giovanni Negri from Bolzano in Italy and by Cornelia Amalinei from Iasi in Romania, who both chair the session. The main topic of the event is gynaecological cytopathology. Giovanni Negri from Italy and Cornelia Amalinei from Romania - two well-known experts in this field - will present their thoughts on different topics of gynaecological cytology. In the second part of the afternoon four younger colleagues - two from Italy and two from Romania - will each give a case presentation from the field of gynaecological cytopathology.
